Citizens Enjoy Eve Of First Productions

By Omar Bonderud

Many Wartburg and Waverly citizens enjoyed an evening filled with humor and drama at the Wartburg gymnasium last Saturday.

Occasion for the near-capacity audience was the presentation by the Wartburg Players of three one-act plays, the first dramatic productions of the collegiate year. Under the direction of Raymond D. Wilderman, a new addition to the Wartburg faculty, the Players gave what might be considered a preview of a most successful theatrical season on the campus.

Stars Impersonate

Although it is hard to determine who gave the best stage presentation of the evening, spotlighted accolades must go to Carl Scheffel, senior, who made his first appearance on the Wartburg stage, and to Francis Neumann, junior, who appeared twice Saturday evening for his second billing under the Players banner.

Scheffel, provided with a dramatic and unusual role of a bard and escaped criminal, which role he executed with the utmost skill, was seen in "Rising of the Moon," a one-act dramatic sketch made even more impressive by its use of Irish dialects and ballads.

Neumann, appearing in both "The Rising of the Moon" and "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," was effective in the former role. His artistic talent was especially evident in the former play. Acting the part of an overly-hardened Irish police sergeant, he was ably assisted by Ralph Hanusa, junior, and Robert Snyder, freshman, as police officers.

Humor Runs Rampant

Farcical humor ran rampant in "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," a one-act satire by George Kaufman. Making fun of, then parties, the play was humorously presented by Robert Snyder, freshman; Hartland Schmidt, sophomore; Fred Moberg, freshman, and Francis Neumann, junior.

"Suppressed Desires" by Susan Glaspell provided an interesting, as well as humorous interlude for the evening in its two scenes of satire on the current mania of psychoanalysis. Robert Grotlund, senior, who played the part of the disgruntled Steve Brewster, threatened to steal one scene with his efficient portrayal of the henpecked husband. Marie Ehlen, sophomore, played the part of his scientific wife mercilessly analyzing. Vogel, sophomore, achieved an admirable dramatic pitch as Steve's unscientific sister-in-law.

Scenery on the Wartburg stage did not play the least part in the production of these plays; instead, it served to give a fitting background to three truly good plays.

Speakers Chosen For Annual Banquet

Speakers for the 1948 Homecoming banquet Oct. 23 have been chosen, according to James Keller, general chairman.

The Rev. Fred Landeck of Dubuque, the Rev. A. C. Schumacher of Des Moines and Prof. Alfred Engelbrecht of Iowa State college, Ames, have accepted invitations to speak.

The Rev. William Schmidt, who will assume the pastorship of St. Paul's Lutheran church here on Oct. 31, will deliver the Homecoming sermon on Sunday, Oct. 24.

Parade Motion Not Permanent, Say Senators

Recent motion passed at the last student body meeting barring all religious floats in the Homecoming parade was interpreted by the Student Senate at its meeting last Monday evening to apply to this year only.

Mel Bergin, senior and president of Chi Rho; George Roleder, and Merill Herder, juniors, were present at the meeting to get the Senate's opinion of the duration of this ruling. David Rath, student body president, informed the group that the ruling would not necessarily be carried out in future years, and that a further study of the matter will be made later this year.

After some discussion, the Senate decided to look for delegates to send to the United Nations meeting in Des Moines, even though it takes place during the week of Homecoming. Delegates from all Iowa colleges are invited to attend the meeting of this organization which supports the United Nations program. Dorothy Cross, senior, is secretary of the state group.

Bob Gronlund, senior, announced that Omar Bonderud, junior, and Norman Fintel, sophomore, would assist him on the constitution committee. Executive committee appointed Bob Gronlund and Elaine Holsinger, senior, to the elections committee. A freshman member of Student Senate will be added to this committee after next week's election of freshmen officers.

Music On Schedule

At least two music recitals are on the Wartburg schedule during the coming month.

Miss Wilma Schell, piano instructor, will present a piano recital Sunday, Oct. 17, at 3 p. m. in the Waverly high school auditorium.

Dr. Robert Hieber, organ instructor, will be heard in an organ recital at St. Paul's Lutheran church Nov. 7.

50 To Hear Chorale

Total of 50 members of the Music Appreciation club will go to Cedar Falls this evening to hear the Robert Shaw Chorale, which will appear in concert at the Iowa State Teachers college there. The Wartburg group will go in private cars.

Having done much to further interest in choral singing, Robert Shaw is thought by many to be the foremost choral conductor today. His group consists of 32 mixed voices.

Students Plan Club

Political and world affairs discussion club is in the process of formation on the Wartburg campus according to Norman Fintel, sophomore.

Students interested in such a club are asked by Fintel to meet at 7:30 p. m. Oct. 14 in chapel hall to decide upon the type and scope of the organization.

Knights See Stars As Mather Comes With Telescope

Wartburgers will see stars next Tuesday evening.

Occasion for the star-gazing will be the appearance Tuesday at 8 p. m. of Milo Mather, amateur astronomer from Clarksville, who will demonstrate the use of the telescope at North field.

Appearance of Mather, a graduate of Iowa State college, is sponsored by the Wartburg Science club.

Students interested in watching the demonstration are urged by Delbert Meyer, senior and vice-president of the Science club, to meet in chapel hall at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

If weather is favorable, Mr. Mather will bring along his six-inch portable refractor type telescope. Used for solar study, it magnifies from three hundred to four hundred times the size as seen by the naked eye.

Stars and planets numbering up to 2,000 are recorded in his catalog of classification. Part of this classification has been used in observatories throughout the United States.

Sachs Begins Clothing Drive

Hans Sachs Verein, Wartburg German club, on Monday will begin its annual drive for clothing to be sent to Europe, as announced this week by Merill Herder, junior and president of the organization.

Clothing collected from members of the Wartburg family will be sent through Lutheran World Relief so that it will reach Europe by Christmastime. Chairman of the drive is Richard Schwarz, senior and vice-president of Hans Sachs.

Most of the clothing collected will be sent to Germany, according to those in charge of the drive.

Drive To Begin Monday

Scheduled to begin Monday, the drive will close Friday. Students are requested to leave any kind of clean clothing, including shoes, at various stations on the campus provided for that purpose.

Receptacles for depositing clothing will be placed at the north-east entrance of Luther hall, by the stairway leading to the college bookstore and in both Grossmann and North halls.

Hope For Cooperation

"We hope that the entire student body will cooperate," said Herder in commenting on the drive, sponsored for the past few years by the Hans Sachs Verein.

Students who wish to bring clothing from home, but who will not be able to have it on the campus for this drive, are requested to turn that clothing over to the March of Dimes committee, as that group picks clothing with its regular food parcels.

College Sends Largest Delegation To Regional IFTA Convention

Wartburg Future Teachers sent the largest delegation to the Northeast Regional fall meeting of the Iowa Future Teachers association held at Mason City junior college Oct. 4. Of the 127 students from six Iowa colleges, 44 were representatives of Wartburg.

Following registration, future teachers were welcomed by Maybelle Adelsman of Mason City junior college, regional president, and Supt. Lawrence Shepoiser of the Mason City public schools.

Wayne Davis of Drake FTA, chairman, spoke on "Professional Orientation of Future Teachers." In his talk he included remarks concerning the National Education association conference which he attended in Washington, D. C., this past summer.

Talks on different phases of education were given by professors from several Iowa colleges.

After luncheon, which was held in the First Congregational church, Wartburg's duet, Orville Obermeyer and Dorothy Dahlstrom, accompanied by Anna Marie Walther, all juniors, sang three numbers. Group singing followed.

Greater part of the afternoon was spent in panel discussions on elementary, secondary and special education. Announcement was made that the spring meeting would be held at Luther college in Decorah.

Becker To Luther For Inauguration

Dr. C. H. Becker, president of Wartburg college, will represent Wartburg and the American Lutheran conference at the inauguration of the Rev. J. W. Tvidaker as president of Luther college at Decorah Oct. 16.

Inauguration ceremonies will coincide with the annual Homecoming program and the cornerstone laying at Diderikke Brandt hall at Luther.

Wartburg's football team will play Luther in the Homecoming game Saturday evening. The varsity band is also planning to make the trip for an appearance at Luther's Homecoming.

Home Talent Show On MAC Program

Home talent show will be the main feature of the Music Appreciation club program Sunday, according to Ken Krueger, junior and president. The meeting will be held in Old Main at 7 p. m.

Participants will be Betty Krull, organ; Alton Schwandt, trombone; Dorothy Dalstrom, Marion Peterson and Marvin Goetz, all voice.

The club plans to have a number of meetings this year consisting of musical appearances or lectures. The group plans to sponsor trips to near-by concerts.

Semester project will be discussed at the meeting. Suggestions which have been made are increasing the record library or starting a drive for a grand piano.

MAC will also sponsor the playing of Christmas music on the campus.

LSA Will Meet Every Sunday; First Meeting Scheduled Oct. 10

Lutheran Student association will hold a meeting every Sunday between 5 and 7 p. m. in the college cafeteria, as reported by John Walker, president. All students attending Wartburg and who are members of the Lutheran church are automatically members of LSA.

First meeting of the academic year will be held this Sunday evening. Recreation, devotions and food are scheduled for the meeting.

This Sunday after the regular meeting everyone is invited to go to St. Paul's parish house to hear a speech on the World Council of Churches. Before going to the parish house, the group will hear the Rev. W. C. Fritschel, registrar, give a short talk explaining the relationship between the World Council of Churches and the American Lutheran church.

Dr. P. G. Macy, main speaker, was a delegate to the Amsterdam convention of the World Council of Churches and will speak on that subject.

LSA will hold one meeting a month in conjunction with Chi Rho. Oct. 17 Chi Rho will present the speaker for the meeting and LSA will furnish the food.

Walker has announced that a panel on "Communism in the Church" is being planned.

"And much fun was had by all"

So closed the TRUMPET staff photographer's report after he returned from the LSA picnic near Cedar Falls last Sunday with this picture.

Professor To Speak

Dr. Martin Wiedersaenders, professor of education, will speak Oct. 14 at the convention of the Iowa Association of School Boards at Des Moines.

Subject of Dr. Wiedersaenders' talk will be "Channeling the Teacher from College to Classroom." He will attend in his capacity as president of the Iowa Institutional Teacher Placement association.

Clothing Drive Personal Duty

Next week the Hans Sachs Verein, Wartburg German club, will begin its annual drive for clothing to be sent to needy Europeans. This is not meant to act as a mere project to increase the spirit of students interested in things German; it is part of a campaign for a cause, the like of which has never before been seen.

No intelligent person can deny the great physical needs of the destitute people of the world—not of Europe alone, but of the various corners of the world. Since the national backgrounds of most Wartburg students are found in Europe, it is only natural that the Wartburg family turn its attention to the needs there. We in America, with our enviable standard of living, can never fully understand conditions among people who have had to face war, starvation, loss of homes and destruction of spiritual peace in a single generation.

Some uninformed Americans have tried to make the world believe that the Marshall Plan will more than take care of the needs of Europe. But, when one considers the eyewitness accounts of Dr. Bodensieck, Dr. Empie and Wartburg's own Kenn Priebe, he can readily understand that all the financial aid available can never possibly take care of the extensive need there.

Christians throughout the world are hoping and praying for peace. They scan the headlines every day, anxious about the tense international situation. They realize more and more that the people of Europe are depending upon others to provide for their needs; there is no other way out of their dire straits. Either totalitarian Communism or democratic Christianity must be the means of providing for their needs. The choice faces all Americans today.

Clothing, though but a small part of those needs, is a most integral part. By providing clothing now, Wartburgers will not only be helping to fulfill their duties as Christian citizens of the world, but they will be doing their part in one of the most important fights in the world today—the fight for peace.

Peace is a personal thing; its achievement lies with the individual, and that includes the individual member of the Wartburg family.

World Views by Grelling

USE Best Peace Hope

Ever since he lost the post-war elections in England, ex-Prime Minister Winston Churchill has advocated and fought for an idea which, in your columnist's humble opinion, is one of our best hopes for a lasting world peace—the United States of Europe. This new state would unite all European nations who would care to join it under one administration, thus forming a third great power which would act as an equalizer in the distribution of power on this earth.

Theoretically, the formation of such a state requires two basic changes in the conventional European setup. First, the re-education of all people to think of themselves as citizens of Europe and not as citizens of one particular part of that continent is necessary; and second, the abandoning of all selfish nationalistic interests. As a matter of fact, point two would automatically result from the realization of point one, for if the European people think of themselves as one nation, the petty nationalistic ambitions will die a natural death.

In practice, the main difficulty in the formation of this state would be the wide differences in language, culture and religion. At first glance it seems impossible that such a conglomeration of peoples could ever be efficient, but practically the difficulty is not insurmountable.

A good example of the cooperation of different nations and different religions is the country of Switzerland, where Germans, Frenchmen and Italians; Lutherans, Calvinists and Catholics have formed a nation, the government of which is the most democratic in the world. And your columnist can see no reason why that cooperation could not exist on a larger scale between the different countries of Europe.

Once such a state would be formed, comprising between four hundred and five hundred million people, any country on earth would think twice before beginning a war which might involve such a colossus. On the other hand, the very differences in race, language and religion in its midst would prevent the United States of Europe from starting a conflict, and the preservation of world peace would have made a decisive step forward.

Thespian, Politician

That's Bob Gronlund

Thespian and politician, either adjective well describes Bob Gronlund, active student of Wartburg. Being the president of the Wartburg Players and vice-president of the student body, this senior pre-theologian from Duluth, Minn., is well known by all.

Believing in a well-rounded, liberal education, this senior English major began his higher education at Ames, continued at Duluth Junior college, Duluth, and then traveled at the expense of Uncle Sam to Shrivenham, England, where he attended Shrivenham American university. Next, seeking more knowledge, he attended the University of Minnesota, and finally came to Wartburg.

Passion, Dramatics.

"My one passion is dramatics!" says Bob and goes on to prove it.

Although Saturday night marked his seventh appearance on the stage since his college career began, Bob stated that his interests did not rest entirely on acting, but that he enjoyed debating and reading plays. Among his favorite roles is that of Papa in "Papa Is All," a Wartburg production of last year. He is duly proud of having seen Vivian Leigh in "Skin of Our Teeth" in London.

"The Dramatic club has an excellent program—good enthusiastic workers," he stated.

Advancement of the organization showed in its application for membership in the Alpha Psi Omega national dramatic fraternity, and the plan for travel for the Players club, the president explained.

As vice-president of the student body, Bob was ready to state his views and express his feelings.

Students Suggest.

"About three or four students have given suggestions and corrections already. This is a good sign; it makes for effective student government. In a Christian college the students should have wide powers in government because, as educated Christian people, they certainly should be in a position to accept the responsibility. The goal of student government should be more and more government by the students."

Taking a little relaxation is important to everyone, and Bob finds his by treading the golf course regularly. He is proud of his nineties on an 18-hole course.

A veteran of the 89th infantry in Europe, and 18 months overseas, Bob is full of tales and has decided that next to Duluth, Edinburgh is the most wonderful city he knows of. Looking forward to a bright future, he plans to attend seminary next year, and hopes to obtain his master's degree from the University of Edinburgh.

Inquiring Reporter

"Thine the Spirit" has been selected as the theme for this year's Homecoming. But what actually is the "Wartburg spirit"? The Inquiring Reporter recently received some replies from Wartburg students.

Edgar Zelie, senior, Waverly—"Because I live at home instead of on campus, I don't really know what the spirit on campus is. Within particular groups, like choir, there exists a feeling of unity, which comes from regular association with the same people who have similar interests, aims and abilities."

"The spirit of unity is very evident here at Wartburg. One sees this among the students, among the faculty members, between students and faculty, and between the alumni and the college. I feel that I'm missing some of Wartburg's spirit by not being in closer contact with the college."

Ivan Amman, freshman, Bethune, Col.—"The spirit of Christian comradeship seems to be dominant at Wartburg. This is natural because of the common ideals and aims of the students and teachers. To me the 'Wartburg spirit' is the Christian atmosphere which prevails on this campus.

"Another thing that I've noticed is that even though the financial and social background of the various students is different, one can hardly tell what a certain student's real social status is. Except for the green caps worn by the freshmen and the actual credit hours which a student might have, there is no distinction between the classes."

Sylvia Meyn, junior transfer student, Cape Girardeau, Mo.—"In contrast to the college that I attended, Wartburg has a definite and healthy school spirit. There is much more interest in the college among Wartburg students because they seem to feel that they are really a part of the college. I would characterize Wartburg's spirit by the two words 'growing' and 'progressive.' I might also mention the feeling of union and friendship which I have found here."

Muriel Hanselmann, sophomore, Bessie, Okla.—"The common ideas, ideals and aims of the college family bring about the spirit of Wartburg. The spirit itself is something that I cannot express very easily, but I would say that the feeling of unity among Wartburgers and loyalty to their college is the greater part of the spirit of our Alma Mater."

Knights Dump BV In Thriller

By Adam Meidinger

Once again the Wartburg Knights dumped the Buena Vista Beavers in a hair-raising thriller —this time by a 19-14 margin— at the Waverly Municipal field last night.

There were thrills galore, especially in the second half, as the Knights came roaring back from behind to defeat their old gridiron nemesis to win their second Iowa conference tilt against no losses.

Game Anybody's.

It was anybody's game right down to the wire as both clubs battled tooth and nail. It was Wartburg's ground offense against the Beavers' dangerous aerial attack.

Wartburg was again led by the big fullback, Ervin Hanus. The "Tama Express" roared through for two touchdowns as he rolled up 124 yards in 24 attempts for an average of five yards per try.

Lloyd Koob's beautiful 49-yard kick-off return, Hanus' 47-yard TD gallop and the brilliant goal line stands of the Wartburg defensive team were a few of the highlights for the Black and Orange while the Don Castle-to-Bernie Saggau passes kept the Beavers a constant threat.

BV Draws First Blood.

Buena Vista drew first blood late in the first quarter. It climax was set up when Bill Fredrick let a punt out of his arms on the Wartburg 18 and the Beavers recovered. Five plays later, Willdson cracked over on a cross-buck for the score. McKinstrey converted.

Wartburg came back when Knight Hal Wiltshire recovered a Beaver fumble on their own 44 yard line. With Paul Bruns and Hanus carrying the brunt of the attack the Knights racked up three first downs to move the ball to the one-yard marker, where Wahle Platte plunged over. Walt Block's attempted conversion failed, and that's the way it stayed for the rest of the second period.

Beavers Open Up.

The men from Storm Lake opened up again in the third period when they moved down to the Wartburg one on a 24-yard pass. The Knight forward wall held for four plays and McDougal again booted the Knights out of a hole. A 30-yard pass, Naughton to Oatman, moved the Beavers right back to the 9, a 15-yard holding penalty put them back to the 24. Castle heaved a pass to Saggau, who took it over his shoulder and went over the goal line. McKinstrey again converted.

Wartburg came back immediately when Koob returned the kick-off 49 yards and Hanus broke into the clear and, with the aid of fine downfield blocking, rumbled over for a 47-yard touchdown run.

After the kick-off, a 45-yard pass, Saggau to Naughton, and a 15-yard holding penalty put the ball on the Wartburg two. The Beavers fumbled in the end zone, a Knight touched it out before it went dead, play and Wartburg took over on its own 20.

A moment later, the Knights regained possession of the ball and rolled up six straight first downs before Hanus bulled over for Wartburg's winning TD.

Squires Lose To Dubuque U. In 7-0 Game

By Bob Snyder

Wartburg's Squires lost a tight ball game 7-0 Thursday afternoon, when they played host to the "B" team from Dubuque university on a field that had been turned into a sloppy morass by a 36-hour rainfall.

Although outweighed almost completely along the line and in the backfield, the Squires made a good showing for themselves and throughout the game outplayed the opposition.

Dubuque Kicks Off.

Dubuque kicked off and the ball was returned by Boese to the 36-yard line. The Squires were unable to gain and Roy Peterson punted to the Dubuque 36-yard line. The Blue and White fumbled on the first play, an alert Squire breaking through and pouncing on the ball. Fumblitis had set in, however, and Dubuque recovered a few plays later.

Neither team was able to get a sustained drive going in the mud; so the battle settled down into a punting duel. Due to the excellent kicking of left tackle Peterson, the Squires were soon getting the better of the argument from Dubuque. In fact, at one time the Orange and Black set them clear back on their own 5-yard stripe.

Knights Start Penetration.

This set up one of Wartburg's deepest penetrations into enemy territory for the game. Dubuque punted upfield to the 50, but the ball was returned to the 40. Otto Zwanziger crashed center to center to the 28. However, a penalty for illegal use of the hands set the Squires back 15 yards.

Peterson got off a beautiful kick, which bounced off the Blue and White safety and was recovered by the alert play of Dale Rathe, Wartburg right end. Squires had the ball on the 11-yard line but were unable to capitalize on their golden opportunity. A penalty and a big loss on an attempted pass following a fake kick cost them their chances.

The second half started out much the same way with teams exchanging hits by fumbles and punts. Wartburg's only completed pass was the forerunner to disaster. Peterson faked a kick and completed a pass which was good for a first down. The Orange and Black fumbled on the next play and Dubuque recovered.

Quarterback Chucks Passes.

Following 'Pete's' example, the Dubuque quarterback started chucking passes. Two completed forwards brought the Blue and White down to the 15-yard marker. Tony Shavone, burly Dubuque fullback, went around end for six yards and on the next play completed a pass in the end zone for the only score of the game. The conversion was good and Dubuque led 7-0.

Sleege, Squire halfback, gave the Blue and White some anxious moments when he broke loose on the first play following the kick-off with a beautiful run to the Dubuque 35-yard line. The slippery pigskin refused to cooperate on the next play and the Squires were set back for 10 yards.

Neither team accomplished anything for the rest of the game, Dubuque stalled for time, protecting its precious 7-point lead. Just before the game ended, however, the booting of Peterson, combined with the hard-fighting tactics of the Wartburg line, had forced Dubuque all the way back to the 6-yard line.

Kromrey Captains Wartburgers In First Home Entanglement

By Bob Snyder

Harold Kromrey was the stocky, scrapping guard who captained the Wartburg Knights in their first home game Friday night against Buena Vista. Coach Melvin Nelson's selection for that encounter is a 20-year-old senior from Fall Creek, Wis.

This is Harry's third year as a member of the Black and Orange football squad, all of them at the guard position. His only football experience has been at Wartburg, but he has learned the game quickly and is one of the better linemen on the team. The husky guard was also a member of last year's track squad as a distance runner.

Captain Kromrey is a pre-theological student majoring in English. He plans to continue his preparation for the ministry at Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque. Following these lines, he is a member of Chi Rho, pre-theological society. His favorite hobby is reading classical novels.

Harry's by-word for football success is hard work. Here is his reason for the Knights' ability more than to hold their own this season.

"The team may not rate as high as others in ability, but it is as high, if not higher, in endurance, which means a lot when that fourth quarter comes up."

Remmers President Of Athletic Group

New president of the Women's Athletic association is Helen Remmers, sophomore from Plainfield who was elected at the organizational meeting Wednesday evening in the gymnasium.

Other officers elected were Adeline Rudolph, junior from Jamestown, N. D., vice-president; Jeanette Hodel, freshman from Rio Linda, Calif., secretary, and Mary Ann Beutler, freshman from Rock Rapids, treasurer.

Co-adviser to Miss Mildred Soma, women's athletic director, is Miss Esther Little, assistant in the biology department.

Tryouts Bring 5 Cheerleaders

As a result of the cheerleader tryout Tuesday evening in the gymnasium, Irene Meier, Bill Hintz, both sophomores, Myrna Dreier, Bob Campbell and George Herbener, freshmen, will be cheering Knight teams on to victory this year.

Elected by the student body, the cheerleaders will lead yells at all football and basketball games during the current school year. Irene Meier will be serving her second year as one of Wartburg's cheerleaders.

The five were chosen from a field of three women and six men. Bob Campbell, although not listed on the ballot, consented to try out after students at the election chanted, "We want Campbell."

from Engel's Angle

"Dutch" Sauerbry wasn't even in suit last Friday evening because of an injury, but he helped the Knights to their convincing 32-6 victory over Iowa Wesleyan. The Tigers sent a sleeper out along the sidelines where he lay flat on the ground, unnoticed by the Wartburg defense. "Dutch" was standing on the sidelines and detected the sleeper. He started yelling, along with the players on the bench, and put the defense wise before any damage had been done. Wesleyan tried the same play later but again it failed to work.

Seminary Boys are among the most faithful rooters the Knights have. Several of them were at the LaCrosse game, and an even larger number attended the game last week. Why don't more of the students here help the Sem boys make noise?

Something new has been added! The "W" club is planning on naming an "athlete of the week" from among the students here at school. That may or may not be a good idea. The one thing against it is that it may cause athletes to attempt to achieve personal glory rather than working for the good of the team. There is always enough of that as it is without further incentives.

Luther is to be the Knights' opponent next Saturday in their Homecoming game. Wartburg upset the Luther boys last year, so they will be out for revenge. A good delegation of Wartburg rooters out there might help the Knights turn the tide again.
